Using "RealeWriter"
(from realebooks.com)
you can make these cute little books, and then just print them OR they can be viewed online.

Becoming an author is an act of creation.

It's tangible, and it's recursive: as we become writers, we become better readers... and this cycle promotes literacy.

Just because you're making a book on a computer doesn't mean that you need to be limited by it! Pictures and text can be created by hand, and then scanned in order to insert them in your book.
